Vol. VIII. No. 13

H. G. GARRETT

Nominated on 15th Ballot
for Railroad Commissioner of Third District

Most Enthusiastic Convention Ever Held in District

Last Thursday afternoon at the Opera House in Paris the Republicans of the Third Railroad District nominated Hon. Green Garrett of Clark county, as the standard bearer for the office of Railroad Commissioner, after a very interesting session in which fifteen ballots had been taken.

There were seven candidates contesting for the honors, viz: H. G. Garrett, J. J. Craig, A. T. Siler, John Littlejohn, Samuel Holmes, Jackson Morris and W. L. Brown.

The first ballot showed Garrett to be far in the lead of all other candidates, the tabulation showed Garrett 300, Craig 191, Siler 121, Littlejohn 124, Holmes 87, Morris 61 and Brown 29.

There was but little change until after the tenth ballot when it was decided to drop the hindmost man on each succeeding ballot.

Brown was left off the eleventh ballot followed by Judge Holmes on the twelfth, and Siler went down on the unlucky thirteenth. Then Craig was down and out on the fourteenth ballot leaving Garrett, Littlejohn and Morris.

The Craig forces rallied to Littlejohn and tried to elect him, but the friends of Morris seeing that he was defeated changed their vote to Garrett and the tabulation showed Garrett a winner with 477 votes to his credit.

Mr. Garrett was escorted to the stage and accepted the nomination in a few well-chosen remarks after which the convention adjourned.

Knox County played a very prominent part in the convention and when the proper time came threw her solid vote to Garrett which insured his election.

The following delegates from Knox county were present at the convention and participated in the organization:

Caleb Powers, D. W. Clark, W. C. Black, J. T. Stamper, W. M. Mitchell, Chas. C. Smith, A. J. Mitchell, A. M. Hemphill, T. J. Hale, Clarence Mitchell, J. D. Main, W. H. Green, W. F. Parker, S. A. Smith, J. H. Lawson, W. H. Detherage, W. W. Byrley and W. M. Lambdin.

In the committee organization the Knox county delegation unanimously elected the following:

Committee on Credentials, W. W. Byrley.

Committee on Resolutions, Hon. Caleb Powers.

Committee on Rules and Order of Business, Hon. Sawyer A. Smith.

Committee on Permanent Organization, Dr. Wm. Carson Black.

Judge John T. Stamper was elected as Chairman of the delegation and cast the vote of Knox county on all questions coming before the convention. After the organization several of the boys returned home knowing that those left would look well after Knox county's interests.

The Convention was a harmonious affair and is only an indication that the State will be swept clean this fall by the Republican ticket.

Mr. Garrett, the nominee of this Convention, is an honest, upright Christian gentleman, well known throughout the Eastern end of the State, and being a lawyer of well known ability makes him especially fitted for the position.

The party is to be congratulated on the splendid man she has selected and in saying this we do not cast any reflection upon any of the other candidates who espied to the position as they are all good men, but Mr. Garrett seems to be especially fitted for the place and will draw much strength to the State ticket this fall.

The Country Editor

The Tampa (Fla.) Tribune pokes a little fun at the weekly papers of Florida by publishing clipped items under the head of "Rural Florida." The editor of the Citrus County Chronicle published at Inverness, (Fla.) resenting the insinuations of the Tribune, presents the advantage and joys of a country editor's life in the following classic:

The country editor is the subject of many a joke harmlessly indulged in by his brethren of the city press, but he takes it all good naturedly as he sits on his throne behind a pine board table piled with exchanges and gazes dreamily down the deserted village street at the only scene of animation, which is a yellow hound sitting on his haunches in the shade of a oak, forced to exert himself in an effort to dislodge a regiment of fleas that "never sleep." Through an open window floats the unmistakable odor of a neighbor boiling collard greens and the merry tinkle of a cow bell mingles with the snap of the office shears as a bunch of clippings are culled from the pile of exchanges to enlighten his readers at one dollar per annum.

The country editor sits not under the glare of an office drop light in the wee hours of the morning and forces ideas from a tired brain. He hears not the splutter of the linotype as it slides forth line after line of "dope" beat out of numbed fingers on a Smith Premier after twelve u. No sound of the telegraph key comes over the transom as a tired telegraph editor rushes to push "page 30" in the waiting copy boy's hand. He hears not the rasping cry of the "gally kid" as he sings "third take on society!" He sees not the impatient foreman as he walks nervously up and down the "make up room" issuing orders that sends the "turtles" with their loads of make-up forms scurrying for the elevator. He hears no noise of sizzling metal as it spats against the "mud" in the stereotyping room and he is deaf to the clang of the crescent plates as they are buckled in shining rows to the drums of the monster perfecting press that stands throbbing in every joint ready to gulp down roll after roll of white paper in its steady maw to be rushed out on the streets a few moments later by shrill mouthed newsboys, who cry "first edition!"

No, no "twenty-minutes for lunch" methods with the country editor. He takes his time. When a heavy editorial problem confronts him he takes it to bed with him and generally wakes up in the morning with the matter thoroughly sifted out in such a manner that even his most illiterate subscribers can fall to his meaning like a chicken picking up corn. If his brain refuses to work he can lay aside his pen and go fishing.

The country editor has a whole week to dope out a four-page paper and you bet he turns out some stuff that is original. He knows every one of his subscribers personally and knows just what they want and when they want it and it's nine to one if he attends to his business half way as he should his wood shed is never empty and his corn bin never dry.

Joke the country editor all you wish, but this happy-go-lucky gent who moulds rural opinion would not swap positions with the biggest editor-in-chief in the land.

The man who considers himself one in a thousand naturally regards the other 999 as mere ciphers.

VICTIM OF A QUEER ILLNESS.

Miss Nellie Florence, of near Barefoot, Nicholas county, who has been ill for the past two years, became critically ill at her home last Thursday. She was attacked with violent cramping and, it is said, threw up from her stomach over 150 fishing worms, after which she was entirely relieved of the sickness.

LARGE COAL PLANT PART OF DEAL

T. J. ASHER & SONS TAKE OVER THE ACE COMPANY, LOCATED IN LOUISVILLE

As a part of their plan of developing between 25,000 and 30,000 acres of coal land in Harlan county, Kentucky and marketing the product, T. J. Asher & Sons, of Wasilla, widely known as lumber men and coal magnates, have purchased the coal elevators and five acre yards of the Ace Coal Company at Pope and Payne streets, in Louisville and will at once begin improvements there that will give them one of the greatest coal plants in the South. Their home offices will be in Louisville.

Although the deal has been in process of consummation for some time, it came to light for the first time Monday. Already plans have been drafted for the additions to the elevator and fully 1,000,000 feet of lumber is being sawed in the elevators of Asher & Sons, to be utilized in its construction. In addition to this eleven tracks, including in all probability about 4,000 feet, will be constructed on thirty-five feet trestles to the elevator. Much of the ground will be leveled and it is hoped to have the plant ready for fall. Between $100,000 and $150,000 will be spent in the additional improvements there.

Robt. Asher, a son of T. J. Asher, and one of the well-known coal magnates of the State, is in Louisville at the present time supervising the local end of the plans for the improvements.

Sale of Coal Mines

The Kentucky-Virginia Coal and Iron Company's mines were sold at Cumberland Gap Monday in a Commissioners' sale, the Eastern Kentucky Coal and Land Company bidding it in for a Baltimore banking house, which also has purchased the iron foundry at Big Stone Gap, and is negotiating for the iron plant at Middlesboro. They own all the iron leases between Middlesboro and Big Stone Gap.

BUSINESS MAN

William Adams, Candidate for Governor, is a Business Man.—Discussed by Editor of Hodgenville Herald.

(From Hodgenville Herald.)

We are informed that Hon. William Adams, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, is a business man of unbounded integrity, honest and upright in his business dealings, and that he is intellectually equipped to cope with any problem that may present itself in the management of either public or private affairs.

It has long been proven that the honest business man, who is capable of the successful management of his private affairs, is also capable of the successful management of public affairs. The habitual office seeker and professional politician is usually too much absorbed in promoting his own selfish affairs to give the people that full measure of service promised in his oath of office.

Kentucky needs a business man in the Governor's chair at Frankfort for a few years. There is a lot of work to be done—a lot of things to undo. "Doing" and "undoing" will keep a business Governor busy all the time during his four years' term of office.

The Herald hubristically says that it believes he will, if nominated and elected, give the people of the State a wise, conservative and business administration and he will employ himself constantly in "doing" and "undoing" for the betterment of Kentucky. And another thing—Mr. Adams can win in November—Ad

POWERS' BILL

Republican Congressman Wants $600,000 appropriation to Rebuild Daniel Boone Road.

Louisville, Ky., May 8.—Caleb Powers introduced a bill in the lower house today appropriating six hundred thousand dollars to rebuild the old wilderness road from Cumberland Gap, Tenn., to Boonesboro, Ky., along the old Daniel Boone trail.

A Fishing Trip

Dr. E. B. Dishman and Walter R. Barner left last Thursday on the early train on a fishing trip in Harlan county. They stopped with Mr. Jesse Howard at the mouth of Wallins creek about seven miles below Harlan town, where they caught an ample supply of club minnows. They fished there at a mill dam near Mr. Howard's place until noon Friday. They then started down old Cumberland in a boat, fishing along at the favorable looking places and spent Friday night with another Mr. Howard who conducts a store about three miles below Jesse Howard's place, where they had a fine fish-fry, tooth for supper and breakfast.

The next morning they started down in their boat again, and drifted along, landing a good bass now and then, until late Saturday afternoon, when they caught the Harlan train for Pineville and came into Barbourville on the 11:24 train Saturday night. They both report a fine trip, and recommend uncle Jesse Howard to any other fishermen who may be passing that way, for true Kentucky hospitality.

Chas. Davis elected Great Jun or Sagamore

A dispatch from Owsusboro where the Great Council of Kentucky Red Men is in session, says that Charles Davis, of Tchonpitoulas Tribe No. 111, of this place, was unanimously elected Great Junior Sagamore of the Great Council of Kentucky. L. O. R. M., on the first ballot. This is a great honor that has been bestowed upon Mr. Davis and makes the second from the local Tribe who has been thus honored, W. H. McDonald being a Past Great Sachem. The office of Junior leads to that of Great Sachem. Hon. T. Wade Stratton, of Cromwell, Ky., was elected Great Keeper of Wampum.

Thatcher Visits Kentucky

Hon. M. H. Thatcher, a member of the Panama Canal Commission and Governor of the Canal Zone by appointment of President Taft, who has come to Kentucky for a brief visit, was in Lexington on Monday calling upon some of his old political and personal friends. Governor Thatcher arrived in Frankfort Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Thatcher, and they will be in the United States four or five weeks. They came from Ancon, the seat of the civil government of the Canal Zone, via Kingston, Jamaica, Santiago, Cuba, and overland to Havana, thence steamer to Key West, Fla., and the rail route to Kentucky. They are both in the best of health and enthusiastic over their experiences on the Isthmus. Mr. Thatcher says the work on the "big ditch" is progressing satisfactorily, and that the occasional slides reported in the newspapers are only what are expected and will not delay the completion of the undertaking.

Who Was There That You Knew?

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $10,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. Price: $100.00. The collector, a son of a Union soldier—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $100,000—set with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs. It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

Memorial services at Post No. 221 will be Southern Methodist Church
May the 9th at 10 a.m.
delivered by the pastor
Gilb.

An order has been given to the master of outgoing mail
May, so don't get so the clock seems distributing the mail.

The Society submitted
visit Belmont Hill, one MACVille, and on the 10th of May 14th, and the young people
the country, and their elders will them with the results which will be sure
come and impress us.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Mullins wedding we had the pleasure announcing last week from their honeymoon. They spent the latter part of their Louisville, and visited Ind., this week with their relatives. They enjoyed joyful trip, and we take the greatest pleasure in welcoming our city, where they will the future. Everything upon their union thus far weather, and we hope old sun may shine on the rays of his approval.

Andrew Decker, Jr., made a wagon trip through Clay county last week, returning here Sunday. "Chick" says the roads are in a terrible condition. He left Wednesday for Rock castle county.

Mrs. John W. Hughes left Wednesday night for Ashland, Ky., as representative of Cumberland Valley
Ladies No. 24 at the Tri-State Con-

Council of Kentucky Red Men at Owensboro this week.

A mass meeting was held at the Court house Tuesday night to perfect arrangements for the entertainment of the Commercial Club and representatives of wholesale houses of Louisville. Different committees were appointed and arrangements were under way for a big reception.

The series of meetings that have been in progress at the Southern Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, W. D. Gibbs, who was assisted by Rev. W. O. Suller, Conference Evangelist, came to a close last Sunday night. Rev. Suller delivered some very interesting and instructive discourses during the week and the membership, the town and the community in general have been bettered by his short stay among us. He left Monday for Whitesburg, Letcher county, to conduct a series of meetings there.
